

NASSER to NIXON:

(Continued from Page 1, Column 3)

attitude to feign on the question of Zionist occupied Arab territories. Zionists tell them what attitude to feign concerning Zionists now in occupied Arab territories in their criminal conspiracy to acquire Palestine for reasons totally different from what the world has been given by them to believe.

Does again getting elected to office really mean so much to the President of the United States and members of Congress that they knowingly become accessories to reducing the United States to the status of a satellite of the Zionist armed uprising masquerading as a so-called sovereign state under their misnomer of "Israel" to bemuse Christians?

The threat of the so-called "Zionist movement" will disappear like fog when the sun comes out, silently and slowly but surely, just as soon as these facts are known by more persons to show the sinister international political forces which in 1896 gave birth to the "Zionist movement," as that conspiracy was baptized by its organizers to bemuse gullible Christians. Zionists will then no longer be able to bemuse gullible Christians with their spiritual slops to justify Zionist illegal and immoral occupation of Arab territories, like their favorite "the repatriation of God's chosen people to the promised land." All Zionist spiritual slops have always proven just bigger lies.

The authentic official documents dealing with World War I and World War II were released in 1946 for the first time by the National Archives of Great Britain and the United States to historians for research. The evidence of Zionist guilt they disclosed was incredible. The proof of Zionist guilt they reveal confirms beyond all question of doubt the United States was railroaded into World War I and World War II by Zionists. The proof of Zionist guilt established by these documents confirms the United States was railroaded into both world wars. That proof is accepted as undeniable by authorities eminently qualified to assess the value of their amazing contents.

The ghost of Great Britain's secret 1916 London Agreement is again casting its menacing shadow over the world. That illicit understanding has already railroaded the United States into two world wars to facilitate the illegal occupation of Arab territories by transplanted Zionists. It was a national misfortune that this country was railroaded into two world wars to achieve that ill-advised purpose. The United States now faces the prospect of being railroaded into another world war. The ill-advised purpose of that war to to permanently entrench the Zionists in occupied Arab territories with United States help.

The United States was railroaded into World War I as a consequence of Great Britain's need to give consideration fast to Germany's 1916 peace-offer. If Great Britain did not accept Germany's peace-offer when it was made, Great Britain would in less than four weeks be compelled to ask Germany for surrender terms. After fighting Germany for two years, Great Britain was on the verge of surrendering to Germany in October 1916 on very near the same day when Germany made her 1916 peace-offer.

In London in October 1916 the representatives of the World Zionist Organization had learned the terms of Germany's peace-offer. The London representatives of the World Zionist Organization, Weizmann, Sokolof and Landman, hurried to submit their proposal to the British War Cabinet. They acted quickly. They wanted to submit their proposal before the British War Cabinet acted upon Germany's peace-offer. There was the possibility the British War Office might have accepted Germany's peace-offer before the Zionists could make a proposal.

The London representatives of the World Zionist Organization arrived in time to submit their proposal. The World Zionist Organization proposed that as consideration for railroadng the United States into the war in Europe as Great Britain's ally that Great Britain agree to turn Palestine over to the "Zionist movement" after Great Britain defeated Germany and carved up the Ottoman Empire, Germany's ally in World War I. Palestine in 1916 had been a province of the Ottoman Empire five hundred (500) years. In 1916 Palestine's population was ninety-five percent Arab.

Great Britain was confident in October 1916 that Great Britain could defeat Germany even at that late date if the United States came into the war in Europe as Great Britain's ally. Great Britain had no reason to believe that Germany and the Ottoman Empire could not be defeated by Great Britain with the United States as an ally. The United States armed forces of four million soldiers all equipped with the world's most modern weapons were ready to immediately get into the war in Europe.

If President Nixon becomes a casualty in the futile war of nerves waged by him for several months with the Zionists in the United States and Tel Aviv, that war will suddenly come to an end when the United States is again railroaded into war as the United States was railroaded into World War I in 1917 by President Wilson and into World War II in 1941 by President Roosevelt.

Great Britain never owned a square inch of Palestine in all history. Driven by the necessity of circumstances, the British War Office felt justified in accepting the World Zionist Organization's offer. The British War Cabinet and the World Zionist Organization agreed upon the terms of their arrangement about Palestine in London in October 1916. Great Britain on many occasions regretted having promised as a consideration something which was never Great Britain's to rightfully promise anyone.

The first of two of the most suppressed histories is the mystery why the Talmudists ("Jews") of eastern European Khazar ancestry affiliated themselves as a nation with the so-called "Zionist movement." The second is the mystery of what suddenly compelled Lord Rothschild in July 1917, to completely reverse himself and volunteer to provide the so-called "Zionist movement" with unlimited financial assistance from his personal fortune of astronomical figures, if in return the Zionists agreed to apply to admit Palestine to the British Empire as a member as soon as Great Britain turned Palestine over to the Zionists after the war.

The limited space available here will permit only a very brief outline of the history of the heathen Asiatic Mongoloid Turco-Finn Khazar nation. They invaded eastern Europe in the period between the 1st A.D. and 4th A.D. centuries. The heathen Khazar kingdom was converted in the 8th A.D. century to the monotheistic faith then known as Talmudism ("Judaism"). History refers to them after their conversion as the eastern European Talmudists ("Jews") of Khazar ancestry. As the most powerful country in all Europe and Europe's largest population the Khazar kingdom was finally conquered and annexed in the 13th A.D. century by the rapidly expanding young powerful Russian Empire. The Khazar kingdom had dominated Europe from the Ural Mountains to the Baltic Sea and from the Black Sea northward almost to the Arctic Circle for ten centuries prior to their conquest by the Russian Empire. For seventy-five years the Zionists have bemused the gullible Christians that the eastern European Talmudists ("Jews") of Khazar ancestry were all descended from the people of Palestine in Bible history and are termed in religious observance today as "God's chosen people."

A history of the Khazars follows in the quotations from three of the greatest authorities on that subject, Professor Allen H. Godbey, Professor H. Graetz and The Jewish Encyclopedia. The enormity of this Zionist fraud will be understood by readers who will take the time to read these quotations very carefully, and if their patience will permit more than once. The converted and conquered Khazar Talmudists ("Jews") after their final conquest by the Russians in the 13th A.D. century were determined never to remain a conquered nation. Prior to their conquest and annexation by the Russians, the Khazars had never been ruled by conquerors in their 1500 year history.

The Jewish Publication Society of America published The Jewish Encyclopedia in Philadelphia in 1903. The Jewish Encyclopedia is recognized throughout the world as the most reliable compendium of information on this subject. The Jewish Encyclopedia, in Volume IV, pages 1 to 5, presents one of the most comprehensive histories of the Khazars to be found anywhere. The New York Public Library has a celebrated collection of three hundred and fifty three (353) additional histories of the Khazars. Many of them were written by contemporaries of the Khazars, including Nestor the celebrated 10th century Russian historian, many in their original languages and many in English by modern historians based on long years of research on Khazars. The Congressional Library in Washington also possesses an extraordinary rare book museum collection on the Khazar history.

The space available in this issue can only permit an expurgated quotation from The Jewish Encyclopedia history of Khazars:

"Khazars . . . a people of Turkish origin whose life and history are interwoven with the very beginnings of the history of the Jews in Russia . . . driven on by nomadic tribes of the steppes and by their own desire for plunder and revenge . . . in the second half of the sixth century the Khazars moved westward . . . the kingdom of the Khazars was firmly established in most of south Russia long before the foundation of the Russian monarchy of the Varangians in 855 A.D. . . . at this time the kingdom of the Khazars stood at the height of its power and was constantly at war . . . at the end of the eighth century . . . the king of the Khazars and his grandees, together with a large number of his heathen people, embraced the Jewish religion . . . the Jewish population in the entire domain of the Khazars, in the period between the seventh and tenth centuries, must have been considerable . . . about the ninth century, it appears as if all the Khazars were Jews and that they had been converted to Judaism only a short time before . . . it was one of the successors of Bulan named Obadiah, who regenerated the kingdom and strengthened the Jewish religion . . . he invited Jewish scholars to settle in his dominion, and founded synagogues and schools . . . the people were instructed in the Bible, Mishnah, and the Talmud and in the 'divine service of the hazzanim' . . . in their writings the Khazars used Hebrew letters . . . Khazar languages predominated . . . Obadiah was succeeded by his son, Hanukkah, a brother of Obadiah; Hanukkah by his son Isaac; Isaac by his son Moses (or Manasseh II); the latter by his son Nisi; and Nisi by his son Aaron II. King Joseph himself was a son of Aaron, and ascended the throne in accordance with the law of the Khazars relating to succession . . . the king had twenty-five wives, all of royal blood, and sixty concubines, all famous beauties. Each one slept in a separate tent and was watched by a eunuch . . . this seems to have been the beginning of the downfall of the Khazar kingdom . . . The Russian Varangians established themselves at Kiev . . . until the final conquest of the Khazars by the Russians . . . after a hard fight the Russians conquered the Khazars . . . four years later the Russians conquered all the Khazarian territory east of the Azov . . . many members of the Khazarian royal family emigrated to Spain . . . some went to Hungary, but the great mass of the people remained in their native country." (End of quotation from The Jewish Encyclopedia).

The eminent Professor H. Graetz, himself the renowned Talmudist ("Jew") of eastern European Khazar ancestry, is recognized throughout the religious world as one of the foremost authorities on the history of the Khazars. He is the author of "History of the Jews." The expurgated quotation which follows is from Professor Graetz's four-volume classic "History of the Jews" which established Professor Graetz's reputation as one of the most erudite scholars in the religious field. Professor Graetz's "History of the Jews" remains unequalled to this day as an outstanding compendium on the subject of

(Continued on Page 3, Column 1)